House of Prayer Rescue Mission

Established by Robert A. Jackson in the mid 1980's, the House of Prayer was organized to extend the Gospel of Jesus Christ to all people, regardless of denomination, race, or origin by reflecting basic Christian beliefs as taught in the Bible. Today, that tradition continues by offering a free hot meal three days per week, mentoring opportunities, Bible studies, prayer meetings, a community garden program, thrift ministry and worship services. House of Prayer is also able to provide other resources to families including dry goods, non-perishable food items, clothing, and other living necessities through the House of Prayer's Helping Hands Project.

Associate Minister Intern

The House of Prayer Rescue Mission is seeking a ministry studies student with interest in hands on ministry experience with a heart for the less fortunate in a rural setting. Assisting the pastor/mission director in ministry prep, service/study/outreach duties, follow-up and clean-up at the Sunday morning 10 AM worship service; befriend and minister with folks at the service and other pastoral duties that help build God's kingdom through this ministry. A burden for rural compassion gospel ministry through the local church is helpful, but not necessary to apply.

Food Ministry Intern

The House of Prayer Rescue Mission has a feeding ministry that offers a free hot meal three days per week. The House of Prayer is seeking a food ministry intern to help lead the planning, preparation, serving and cleaning up its 70 people Sunday hot lunch with the volunteer team.

The House of Prayer Rescue Mission is looking for an energetic, humble, pioneering, self-starting, self-motivated, flexible, team player, born again, Spirit filled Bible believing Christian who can do church and compassion ministry five hours each Sunday.

Those interested in the Associate Minister/Food Ministry Intern please forward a resume that includes two ministry and two job-related references to gregoryevanh@gmail.com. Submission of resume does not necessarily guarantee an interview for the position. Approved candidate must be willing to sign an agreed upon covenant of conduct.
