Dean of the Faculty (Chief Academic Officer)

Posting: November 1, 2021

Application deadline: January 31, 2022

Nazarene Theological Seminary is seeking applicants for Dean of the Faculty (Chief Academic Officer). The Dean of the Faculty has general supervision of the scholastic affairs of the Seminary and is responsible to the President of the Seminary for the academic excellence of the institution. The Dean is a teaching member of the faculty who leads faculty as a community of faith, scholarship, and ministerial practice.

The Dean provides supervision for the personnel within the Dean's Office, including Recruitment, Enrollment, Academic Programs, Contextual Education, Student Life, and Library. The Dean may expect to offer two courses annually in his/her disciplinary area(s).

Candidates for the position will hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in one of the theological disciplines or related field of study. The successful candidate will have a distinguished record of academic achievement and will demonstrate a high level of experience in educational administrative leadership. He/she will be a member of the Church of the Nazarene, in harmony with the theological foundations of the Church of the Nazarene (as expressed in the Articles of Faith, Covenant of Christian Character, and Covenant of Christian Conduct in the Manual of the Church of the Nazarene) and fully support the mission of the Seminary.

The Mission of Nazarene Theological Seminary is to form faithful and effective ministers of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to participate in the reconciling of the world to God (2 Corinthians 5:18-20). The core values of NTS include:

- To explore and develop the Wesleyan-holiness tradition, as a graduate school of theology
- To support the calling of women and men in ministry
- To know and love the Lord, walk with the Lord, and speak of the Lord with charity and hospitality
- To ground persons in the community of faith and in theological disciplines for the practice of ministry in diverse contexts throughout the world
- To serve as a theological resource for the church, particularly the Church of the Nazarene

For the official position description and to make application, please contact the Chair of the Search Committee: Dr. David Wesley (dwwesley@nts.edu), Professor of Intercultural Studies.
